

Courses for therapists

The best way to learn the Schroth method is to attend a introductory course. During this period therapists will encounter many patients with a wide variety of forms and degrees of scoliosis and will see at first hand how to treat them.

Information @:

Asklepios-Katharina-Schroth-Klinik

Korczakstr. 2

55566 Bad Sobernheim

Tel.: (0 67 51) 8 74 - 0

Fax: (0 67 51) 8 74 - 1 70

info.badsobenheim@asklepios.com

http://www.asklepios.com/klinik/default.aspx?name=Asklepios_Klinik_Bad_Sobenheim

Hans-Rudolf Weiss MD (Grandson of Katharina Schroth)

Orthopaedic Surgeon, Physical Medicin,

Chiropractor (German school)

info@skoliose-dr-weiss.com

Gesundheitsforum Nahetal

Alzeyer Str. 23

D-55457 Gensingen

Tel.: 0 67 21 / 89 40 40

Fax: 0 67 21 / 89 40 42 9

www.skoliose-dr-weiss.com

Since 1986 he underpinned the method Schroth with very many academic articles. See list of his publications (Link "publications").

A tip for course graduates:

Photograph your patients naked to the waist from all four sides and repeat this at intervals. You will then be able to correct any errors that may have crept in and to discuss these with your patients. Over time you will also notice the change as their facial expression becomes happier. Don't miss this pleasure and the opportunity to motivate them!